

WHERE TURKEY'S PRISONERS ARE CONFINED

This is the fortress of St. Angelo, Taranto, South Italy, where the Turks, taken prisoners in the Turko-Italian war, are kept. Already several batches have been taken there to wait till the war is over or until the Turks capture enough Italians to make it worth while to talk about exchanges.

WIDOW AND MAN HELD Widow and Man Held Are In Murder Mystery.

John Quinn, proprietor of a rooming house at 11050 Michigan avenue, Roseland, was shot and instantly killed in his bed early today.

The shooting, which was at first thought to have been committed by a burglar, has developed into a most mysterious crime.

Mrs. Jane Quinn, the wife of the dead man, told the police an unidentified man had slain her husband, after taking $100. from beneath his pillow. She was asleep when the shot was fired. The noise awakened her. She was unable to account for the fact that Quinn's watch, under the same pillow, had not been taken.

After further investigation by detectives, Mrs. Quinn was taken to the station, and J. W. Miller, a boarder at the Quinn home, was also arrested. The arrest of four other men who have recently boarded at the Quinn home was ordered by Lieut. Mooney of the Kensington station.

Mrs. Quinn became hysterical
